Today

Today is here and mine to use,
Tomorrow may not be,
And so the present I would choose
To task my energy;
The opportunity I hold
Within my hand today
May prove to be the precious mould
To shape my future way.

Today is still the only time
In which to do my work,
And mighty triumphs, deeds, sublime,
May in its moments lurk.
But even though the lowly vale
Of common life's my way,
The only thing that will avail
Is duty done today.

For not alone by might and power
Men's destinies proceed,
But by the shaping of each hour
To meet the future's need;
And if in fruitless sloth I bask,
I blot life's open page,
And if I shirk my present task
I'm traitor to my age.

Camden County

FOREW

By Mr. Charles S. Albertson

Formerly County Superintendent of Schools, Camden County

During the second and third decades of the century Camden City and County rapidly became an industri l area. It became very evident that there was an insistent demand for skilled operators for these industries.

Employers and employees agreed that cn institution for industrial training should be established in Camden County and that such institution should train not only for technical understanding and mechanical skill but citizenship. And that training should not be limited to young apprentices but should include operators and mechanics in service. It was evident training should clso include academic development and that a department for this should be included.

An evening school for employed operators and craftmen who desired an opportunity to improve their knowledge and skill should be provided.

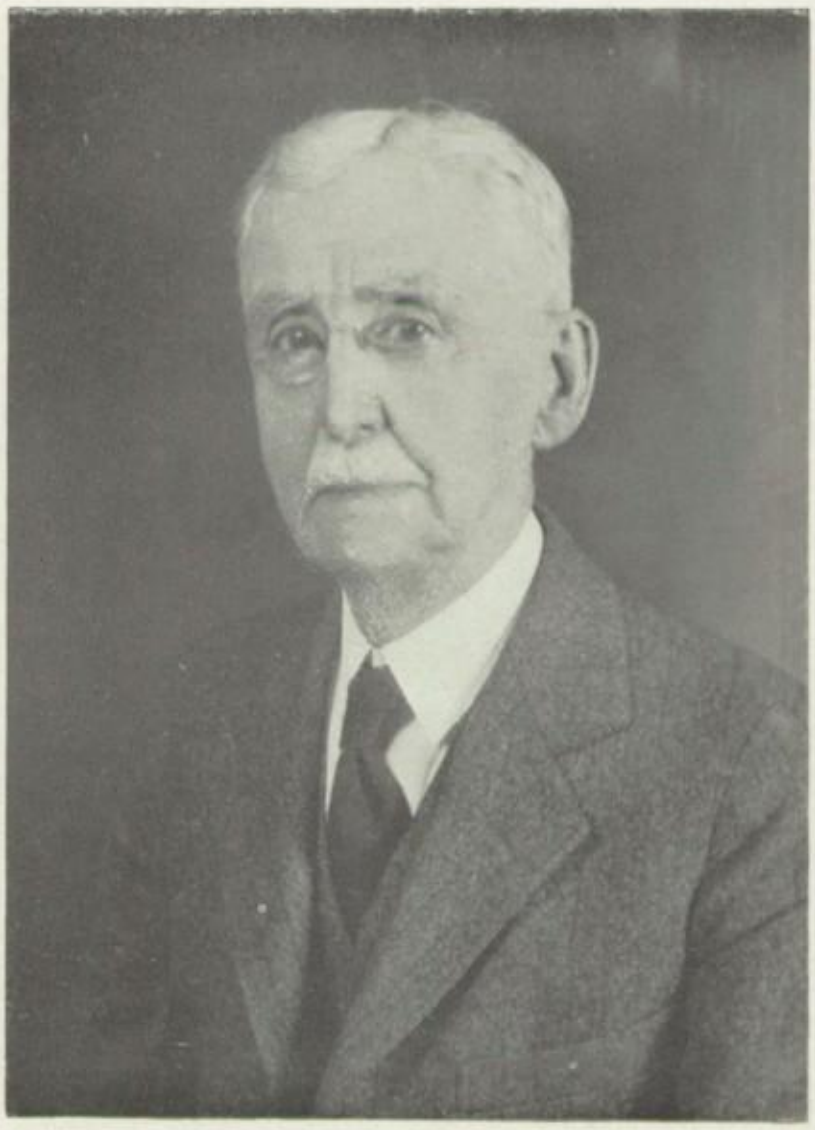
With these objects in view, the cooperation and advice of employers and employees was sought and enthusiastically given.

Securing capable and interested administrators and a competent faculty required close study and discrimation.

The result is

Your Camden County Vocational School

O R D



Mr. Charles S. Albertson

This year marks the tenth birthday of the Camden County Vocational School, thus, it seemed only fitting that a foreword should be given by one who worked untiringly for the establishment of the school —Mr. Charles Albertson. The success this school enjoys has shown that the efforts of Mr. Albertson and his co-workers have not been in vain.

WORK

Work!
Thank God for the might of it.
The ardor, the urge, the delight of it—
Work that springs from the heart's desire,
Setting the brain and the soul on fire—
Oh, what is so good as the heat of it,
And what is so glad as the beat of it,
And what is so kind as the stern command,
Challenging the brain and heart and hand?

Work!
Thank God for the pride of it,
For the beautiful, conquering tide of it,
Sweeping the life in its furious flood,
Thrilling the arteries, cleansing the blood,
Mastering stupor and dull despair,
Moving the dreamer to do the dare.
Oh, what is so good as the urge of it,
And what is so glad as the surge of it,
Rousing the torpid soul from sleep?

Work!
Thank God for the pace of it,
For the terrible, Keen, swift race of it;
Fiery steeds in full control,
Nostrils a-quiver to greet the goal.
Work, the Power that drives behind,
Guiding the purposes, taming the mind,
Holding the runaway wishes back,
Reining the will to one steady track,
Speeding the energies faster, faster,
Triumphing over disaster.
Oh, what is so good as the pain of it,
And what is so great as the gain of it?
And what is so kind as the cruel goad,
Forcing us on through the rugged road?

Work!
Thank God for the swing of it,
For the clamoring, hammering ring of it,
Passion and labor daily hurled
On the mighty anvils of the world.
Oh, what is so fierce as the flame of it?
And what is so huge as the aim of it?
Thundering on through dearth and doubt,
Calling the plan of the Maker out.
Work, the Titan; Work, the friend,
Shaping the earth to a glorious end,
Doing whatever the spirit wills—
Rending a continent apart,
To answer the dream of the Master heart.
Thank God for the world where none may shirk—
Thank God for the splendor of work!

DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

JOSEPH M. HALL

IT IS with deep regret that we bid farewell to the graduating class of 1938. You have fitted into the life of this school so well that we wish you could continue on as members of our regular staff. You have shown interest in your work, you have given of your best efforts to every task assigned you. You have shown a fine spirt of loyalty and cooperation.

The teachers have done their best to equip you for your chosen occupation and to prepare you to meet your social and civic responsibilities. You have received the benefit of their knowledge and experience. They have directed your work and have tried to make it as beneficial as possible. After you leave school and must rely on your own judgement you will appreciate better their unselfish devotion to the task of teaching you.

What you have learned here will give you a start in life but if you are to succeed you must continue to work and study.

I trust that you will make the most of your opportunities and will always realize that time wasted can never be regained.

Ruskin has well said, "Not an hour but is trembling with destinies; not a moment, once passed of which the appointed work can ever be done again, or the neglected blow struck on the cold iron."

I congratulate you on your graduation from the Vocational School and I am sure that if you continue through life with this same steadfastness of purpose you have displayed here your hopes and dreams will be realized to the fullest extent.

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

JOHN S. RAY

IT HAS been with much interest and concern that I have followed the careers of a large number of the members of the eight graduating classes which have preceeded you. Many fine youths have gone through the Vocational School.

In following in their footsteps the way to employment has been made easier for you because of the reputation they have established for being capable, self-confident and reliable workers. More than one boy has obtained employment with some firm because of that firm's satisfactory experience with other graduates.

But just because your path has been made easier by this reputation does not relieve you of the serious responsibility of maintaining that reputation, not only for yourselves, but for future graduates as well.

As you take your places in adult society I know that you too will acquit yourselves as well as those who have gone on before. Your instructors have tried to give to you their best, whether it be trade skills, technical knowledge or the more general qualities of good citizenship. I feel certain that you will live up to the high standards of the Vocational School, both as capable artisans and as good citizens. There will be times when the going will be tough. Do not let that discourge you. For remember, above all things else, you have something no one can take from you. You have a trade. The inscription above the school doors is still as true as it ever was—"He who hath a trade hath an estate."

FACULTY MESSAGE

THROUGH the open door of life the road to progress beckons to you, and to your ears come the shouts of those who have gone on before. Man was born to grow and progress and to do his share of the world's work; failing to do this he is throwing away life, and to throw away life is the greatest crime that man can commit.

Great things have been done, but greater ones still remain undone. The men who have achieved were among those of great purpose, strength, courage, and self-reliance; they were not contented but became stronger by battering down resisting obstacles. To them, hardship, bitter toil, strife and despair were the mechanics' tools that made the finished product. They have gone on, hurling back the challenge to follow. Will you accept this challenge, and face the new days with an aim and a purpose worthy of the best, remembering that nine out of ten failures are born of unbelief? Successful men and great leaders have been inspired by great aims and purposes.

No days of the past can boast of greater achievements and possibilities than can the present day, and in no day of the past was there ever so great a need for youth to fulfill his place in life as there is today. You must answer the challenge realizing that life is opportunity, and if you are to accomplish your mission in life, you must progress.

Our warm and heartfelt gratitude.

STAFF

The Vocationalist Staff has assembled the material contained in these pages with the idea of recording the activities of the Vocational School for the School year of 1937–38 so that time will not erase the fond memories of our pleasant associations together. These pages are too few to allow but a brief glimpse of the school life. We have endeavored by means of photographs and short accounts, to preserve for future reference the outstanding accomplishments of this school year.

If the results of our efforts bring you any enjoyment we will feel fully repaid for the work we have done.

The staff includes:—

CLASS OFFICERS

IN THE beginning of this school year the class of 1938 elected their officers. Throughout their senior experience the class has been led through various problems by these young men. It was their duty to conduct meetings, appoint committees and help plan dances and activities. The officers have done their job well as can be judged by the success of this year's activities. These boys elected were:

WESLEY BRITTIN — President

JOSEPH PEROZZI — Vice-President

JOHN REID — Secretary

ELLWOOD DAVIS — Corresponding Secretary.

CLASS MESSAGE

IT IS with a great deal of pride that we look upon our graduation as terminating the first decade of this school's history. During the ten years that the Camden County Vocational School has existed, it has definitely established a place in our educational system by the success of its students. We hope that we can attain the same measure of success as the previous graduates.

We cannot express in words our thanks to the members of the faculty, for their sincere help and guidance which they so freely gave to all of us. May the future justify the personal interest which you, the faculty, have taken in us.

We, on our part, feel a deep responsibility for the training which we have received, and we go out into our various trades determined to give a creditable account of ourselves.

Walter T. Banasiak

1243 Whitman Avenue, Camden

Woodworking — "Fats"

Ellwood Davis Jr.

976 N. 23rd Street, Camden

Auto Mechanics "Ell"

Ell is our very capable auto mechanic from Cramer Hill. He is a boat enthusiast and the sailor of the Auto class. A joke has to be mighty good before he'll laugh at it although Ellwood is a very sociable chap.

Activities: Corresponding Secretary 3; Chief 2; Hi-Y 1, 2, 3; Foreman 3; Interclass Football 1, 2, 3; Interclass Basketball 2; Interclass Soccer 3; Interclass Baseball 2, 3; Interclass Track 1, 2, 3; Interclass Volleyball 2, 3.

Raymond Di Angelo

554 South 3rd Street, Camden

Electric Shop "Ray"

Ray is taking to his trade like a duck to water. He is the best appliance repairman in the shop and he is sure to be the first one called for a maintenance job. Once you have his friendship you have a true friend. He also has a true friend, we hear. Her name is Annie.

Activities: Chief 3; Hi-Y 3; Shop Foreman 2, 3.

William J. Eastep Jr.

112 Spruce Street, Aubudon

Electric Shop "Eastep"

To know Eastep is a pleasure. His personality and ability to make friends will be a great asset to him in his work. He is one of the best when it comes to running a line of conduit or wiremold, and he is "tops" when it comes to winding and repairing motors.

Activities: Shop Foreman 2, 3; Assistant Chief 2; Safety Council 2; Hi–Y 1, 2; Assistant Circulation Manager of Year Book 3; Interclass Basketball 1, 2; Interclass Football 1, 2, 3; Interclass Swimming 2, 3; Interclass Baseball 1, 2, 3; Interclass Track 1, 2, 3.

"The great secret of success in life is, for a man to be ready when his opportunity comes."

William Ebaugh

2820 Stevens Street, Camden

Printing "Bill"

Bill is almost invaluable to the Print Shop by virtue of his excellent composition abilities. He accomplishes many astonishing things and is sure to attain success in the near future. Bill will succeed in all he undertakes.

Activities: Interclass Volleyball 1; Interclass Baseball 1, 2, 3.

Francis Engstrom

316 Bailey Street, Camden

Radio "Engy"

Engy is a very studious fellow while in the classroom, but once outside he is one of the most jovial lads who can be found. He is a very active member of our interclass sports' teams.

Activities: Hi-Y 3; Chief 2; Safety Council 1; Track Manager 3.

Karl A. Esler

Sicklerville

Machine Shop "Karl"

Karl is one of the quieter members of his class. He usually lets the others do the talking, especially when an argument arises. We know he will succeed because of his agreeable disposition. Karl takes things as they come and makes the best of them. He's been an active member of the class.

Activities: Interclass Baseball 1, 2, 3; Interclass Basketball 1, 2, 3; Interclass Football 1, 2, 3; Interclass Volleyball 2, 3; Interclass Soccer 3; Interclass Swimming 2, 3; Interclass Track 1, 2; Assistant Chief 1; Safety Council 1.

John S. Fearn

33 South 34th Street, Camden

Architectural Drafting "Jack"

Jack's humor will always be remembered by the Architectural class. His ability in basketball has helped his class win many a skirmish in that inter-class sport. If this world demands a fellow who has personality then Jack is sure to get along.

Activities: Interclass Basketball 1, 2, 3; Interclass Volleyball 1; Assistant Chief 1; Chief 2; Hi-Y 2, 3.

"One man finds an obstacle a stumbling block; another finds it a stepping stone."

—William Lyon Phelps

Robert Fest

926 Lois Avenue, Camden

Machine Drafting "Bob"

You'll hear in the near future of a big game hunter who is exploring darkest Africa. It will be no other person than Bob Fest. He is preparing now for this event by capturing big animals–such as mice and bringing their hides into school. Frank Buck has a rival in "Bring-em-back- alive" Fest.
P.S. We think he's a slick fellow.

Activities: Varsity Track 2; Interclass Track 1, 2; Hi–Y 2.

Joseph R. Fisbeck

Sorton Ave., Mt Ephraim

Floriculture "Fissy"

Fissy is the little hunter, trapper, and trader of the Floriculture class. His big ambition is to live a hermit's life back in the woods. Joe is the hardest, most earnest worker in the class.

Activities: Interclass Baseball 2; Interclass Football 2; Interclass Basketball 2; Interclass Soccer 2.

George Flynn

1251 Chase Street, Camden

Welding Shop "Hokey"

Flynn is the class baritone. Many times his loud voice has got him into trouble, but his active mind always gets him out of the scrapes. He hopes to make a success on Broadway.

Activities: Assistant Chief 3; Chief 3; Interclass Basketball 2; President of Advisory 3.

Anthony R. Giorgio

611 South 4th Street, Camden

Printing "Tony"

Tony is ambitious in shop and also has a very good scholastic record. We think that he will be a great asset to the printing industry and a credit to the Vocational School.

Activities: Assistant Chief 3; Class Treasurer 2; Interclass Football 1, 2, 3; Interclass Basketball 2, 3; Interclass Baseball 1, 2, 3; Interclass Swimming 2, 3.

"Some defeats are only installments to victory."—Jacob A. Riis

William Harrop

20 South 41st Street, Camden

Printing "Bill"

Bill is the class jester. Wherever he may be, you can be sure that here is laughter. With his pleasant personality, it is easy to see that he will have very little trouble in becoming successful in the printing industry.

Activities: Interclass Football 1, 3; Interclass Baseball 1, 2, 3; Interclass Basketball 2, 3; Varsity Football 2.

Albert J. Heller

Sarotri Ave., Mt Ephraim

Printing "Pete"

No grievous fault or passing whim
Can make an enemy of him.
And though your need be great or small
His strength is yours throughout it all.

Activities: Safety Council 1; Interclass Football 3; Assistant Chief 3.

James Helliwell

Berlin

Radio "Curly"

Jim is a well liked fellow. He is a hard worker and has the ability to stick with his job. He has already held an excellent position out in industry.

Activities: Chief 2, 3; Assistant Chief 2; Safety Council 1; Interclass Baseball 2; Interclass Basketball 2, 3; Interclass Football 3; Interclass Swimming 2.

William F. Hoy

432 Stevens Street, Camden

Aero Mechanics "Chink"

Chink's solemn expression got him the peculiar nickname of "the old man of the mountains" which, unfortunately, was forced upon him. This does not apply to him, however, for he was very active in inter-class activities and also was a very capable manager of several sports.

Activities: Interclass Football 1, 2; Interclass Baseball 1, 2; Interclass Basketball 1, 2; Interclass Track 1, 2; Basketball Manager 3; Chief 3; Business Manager 3; Shop Foreman 1, 2, 3.

"An investment in knowledge pays the best interest."—Benjamin Franklin

Joseph Nec

231 Milton Street, Camden

Radio "Nec"

He's always laughing at his own jokes, and arguing about anything, anytime, anywhere, and with anybody. Joe is good natured and always smiling.

Activities: Interclass Basketball 1, 2, 3; Interclass Soccer 1, 2, 3; Interclass Baseball 1, 2, 3; Interclass Track 1, 2, 3; Chief 1, 2; Assistant Chief 3; Safety Council 2.

James Panelone

Cedar Brook, New Jersey

Welding Shop "Jim"

Jim is another one of those ambitious welders who is bound to make good. He is known around the school as the clean-shaven chap from Cedar Brook. Good luck to you, Jim.

Albert W. Patterson

1014 Kaighn Avenue, Camden

Plumbing "Romeo"

Pat is a short but wide fellow — always ready to cut up with someone. He likes to work but not too hard. He is always ready with a laugh. We know him as the "Romeo" of the Plumbing class.

Activities: Interclass Baseball 1; Interclass Basketball 1, 2; Interclass Football 1, 2; Assistant Chief 2.

Joseph R. Paul

Center Avenue, Mt. Ephraim

Woodworking "Reds"

Joe's good-natured disposition won him the favor of a great many fellows. Along with his jokes and humor, he did a great deal of good work. He is an all-around good fellow.

Activities: Interclass Baseball 1; Interclass Football 3; Interclass Soccer 3; Hi-Y 3; Safety Council 3; Assistant Chief 3.

"Hard work is the best investment a man can make." —Charles M. Schwab

John Pepsoski

1239 Morton Street, Camden

Welding Shop "Peps"

Peps is the handsome blonde of the welding class. He is a quiet, well-liked lad. His main ambition is to get a job in his trade and make good. We are sure he will do this.

Activities: Chief 2, 3; Shop Foreman 2; Interclass Swimming 2; Interclass Basketball 3; Interclass Volleyball 3.

Joseph Perozzi

346 Carteret Street, Camden

SHOPS

INTRODUCTION TO SHOPS

IT IS in the shops that the Vocational School student receives most of his instruction, for it is here that he spends half of every school day under the instruction of men who have spent much of their lives working at the trade which they teach.

There are fifteen shops, some having two sections each, others having but one. The machine trade has three classes; altogether there are 25 sections numbering from 20 to 25 students in each.

When the school was first built, and later when other courses were added to the curriculum, advisory committees were organized for each trade to aid in specifying the equipment to be used and the units of the trade to to be taught. These advisory committees were composed of men who were prominent in industry and represented both employer and employee.

These men gave a great deal of time to this advisory work and as a result of their hard labors the school has fine shops and up-to-date equipment.

The student works on real jobs using modern industrial machinery and equipment so that when he secures employment in industry he will not be dismayed by a lot of unfamiliar machines.

But along with his ability to handle these complicated tools of industry he has learned how to handle the most complicated of all machines —himself.

SPORTS

SPORTS INTRODUCTION

WHILE the Vocational School specializes more in intra-mural sports, yet varsity competition is not altogether neglected as evidenced by the fine teams representing the school in basketball, swimming, track, and golf.

There are many expenses connected with conducting games with other schools which are not provided for in the school budget. Referees, transportation, uniforms, and other supplies all call for considerable sums. To meet these expenses, funds are raised by the sale of A. A. tickets to the student body. With each student purchasing an A.A. ticket at five cents per month, this nets about $200.00. A. A. tickets admit the owners to all home contests free. Due to the fact that many of the fellows depend upon school transportation to get home, not many can stay to see the games held after school. In order to give all A.A. ticket holders an opportunity of seeing their basketball and track teams in action, several basketball games and one track meet were held an hour or so before the end of school and A. A. members were excused from classes. High blood pressure resulted twice when the score was close; the game was not over and the buses about to leave but the situtation was saved by sending out word to hold the buses. Even at that, the Pennsauken boys had to walk home.

The school spirit has grown tremendously this year and it is due to the fact that fellows who in former years had to "thumb" it home, now are allowed to attend a few A. A. activities during school hours.

BASKETBALL

ABOUT forty candidates answered Coach Blumenstock's call for basketball practice. From these and last year's lettermen, "Ken" Nelson, Ralph Sullivan "Joe" Raiczyk and "Stan" Wisniewski, a fine team was molded. The outfit was composed of no particularly bright stars but a smooth working, fine combination that was a thorn in the side of every opponent. Camden High, our bitter rival, found this to be very true. In the game witnessed by all the A. A. members of the school, Vocational came from behind in the last quarter to nose out Camden. This feat alone made the basketball season highly successful.

Our boys did not always come out on the top but they furnished plenty of tough opposition for their opponents. We are looking for a good season next year as the team will be composed mainly of veterans.

Front Row: Caldwell, Simpson, Nelson, Sullivan, Labenz, Raiczyk (Captain), Kulczynski, Burnstin, Wisniewski.

Back Row: Hoy (Manager), Koslowski (Manager), Blumenstock (Coach), Weston, Casmer, Cibinski, Woods, Roman, Raiczyk, James, Scullen, Thompson.

SWIMMING

WITH an entire new team, except for two veterans, Vocational's swimming team finished third in the South Jersey Swimming League. Victories were registered over Collingswood, Merchantville and Southeastern Catholic (Philadelphia). The only defeats were those by the strong teams of Haddon Heights and Moorestown. Our team also placed third in the South Jersey Finals.

"Jim" Woods and John Tokolish were our only lettermen from last year as "Bill" Bain and "Wes" Brittin were unable to compete. However despite their inexperience, Coach Forbes' mermen made a very creditable showing this year.

The fellows became so expert that they established three league records. "Al" Mezalis cut the time for the 100 yd. breaststroke to 1.14.8. The best time for the 200 yd. freestyle was made by "Jim" Woods who negotiated the distance in 2.21.8. Mezalis and Woods combined with Frank Donaghy to set the new record in the medley relay, at 1.12.7. These records show the championship calibre of our swimmers.

Front Row: Donaghy, Woods, Hunter, Tokolish, Leon, Mezalis, Alstadter, Tierno, and L. D. Forbes.

TRACK

WITH the incentive of last year's undefeated season spurring them on, more boys turned out for track this spring than ever before. About seventy-five eager candidates appeared at the first track practice.

The first meet with Haddonfield was lost by only a few points and in a short time the team had gained its winning stride. It has defeated Burlington, Merchantville, Woodrow Wilson and Mt. Holly in rapid succession. At the time of writing there is every indication that the team will be undefeated for the rest of the season.

The track squad consists of the following members:

GOLF

THIS year marks the debut of golf as a varsity sport. Never before has the school competed in golf tournaments; however, this year a team was entered in the South Jersey Scholastic Golf League.

The team was placed in Class B. It defeated Camden, Mt. Holly, Camden Catholic, Woodrow Wilson and Palmyra winning seventy-five points out of a possible ninety. This placed them at the head of their group and at the time of writing they are to meet Moorestown to decide the championship. The winner of the playoff will receive a plaque on which will be engraved the name of the school and the name of each player. We are sure that Vocational School will win this trophy.

"Al" Druce and "Phil" Cresthull, our demon golfers, have played through the five matches without the loss of a point. Druce also made one of the lowest scores of the entire league by shooting a 78 against Palmyra at the Burlington County Country Club.

The golf team members are:

First Row: William Fox, Jesse Horton, Thomas Brennan, Albert Druce, Joseph Smith.

Second Row: Mr. Forbes, Philip Cresthull, John Casey, Edward Mihm.

INTRA-MURAL SPORTS

WHEN more than 350 boys, out of a student body of 550, participate in the intra-mural contests it is a sign that this type of program is very popular.

Varsity teams, at their best, only provide opportunities for a limited number. With our extensive program of intra-mural activities there is hardly a boy who desires to play who cannot do so. Thus the boys who would have little chance to make the varsity squads have an excellent opportunity of playing on one of the many class teams.

Besides being keenly contested, these sports stimulate a strong and healthy rivalry between the classes. The non-playing members of the class root very strongly for their shop teams.

The sports in which the classes participate are: touch football, soccer, basketball, volleyball, swimming, baseball, and track.

An innovation was started, this year, in awarding a plaque to the class champion in each sport. The plaques were made by the Woodworkers and painted by the Painters. Places were left for the names of the winning classes for a number of years to come. The winning class becomes the possessor of the plaque until a new champion is crowned the next year. Every team does its best so that it will win one of these plaques.

INTERCLASS FOOTBALL

THIS year the touch-football plaque was won by the Machine A class. After playing their way through an elimination contest, Print B and Machine A met in the finals. From the kickoff till the last whistle it was a well-played game. Neither team was able to score, but the game was awarded to Machine A because they made the most first downs. It was the passing attack of Machine A that enabled them to win. Their passer was Stan Brodzik, while DiGiacomo, Billy, Sabieski and Miller did the receiving.

The Print B outfit, led by Captain Wisniewski, put up a good fight but Machine A had the better team and outfought them.

The members of the Machine A team were:

Anthony Billy
Stanley Brodzik
Joseph Crist
Hymen Cohen
Fred Casmer
Harvey DiGiacomo
Francis Flowers
Herbert Lapp
Edward Miller
Leonard Oslowski
Chester Sabieski
Neviu Serafinelli

INTERCLASS SOCCER

THE finals of the Soccer League brought together the teams of Radio A and Machine B. Previous to this, neither team had been defeated. It was a thrilling game with many brilliant saves by the goalies of both teams. At the end of the regulation time the score stood at a 0-0 deadlock. The teams decided to play an extra period, the first team to score would win the game. After about two minutes of fast and furious playing the Machinists booted the ball through the goal, thus gaining for Machine B the soccer plaque.

The team was composed of:

Cyril Atkinson
Charles Binder
Albert Brimfield
John Brodzik
Arnold Cantera
Paul Ferrell
Daniel Foote
Alexander Leon
Edward Matthews
John Patryk
Robert Rafferty
John Reid
Robert Schaeffer
Ephraim Sharp
George Smith
William Zacher

INTERCLASS BASKETBALL

THE Basketball trophy was won by the team representing Print A. Their defeat of Plumbing proved they are not only good printers but excellent basketball players as well. Plumbing had a very good team but the printers were a little too tough for them. Print A wound up on the long end of a 16-8 score. There were no outstanding players, the points being divided fairly even among all the fellows.

The players were:

JOHN ANDRUSZKO
(Coach) RICHARD BURNSTIN
ARTHUR COX
(Captain) WILLIAM HUNTER
(Manager) STANLEY JAMES
JOSEPH KARPIAK
EDMUND KOZLOWSKI
THEODORE PREGARTNER
CHESTER REKLEWSKI
WILLIAM SMERHOVSKY
WALTER SMITH

INTERCLASS VOLLEYBALL

FOR the second straight year the Machine Drafting Volleyball team won the Volleyball crown. After winning twelve straight games, Machine Drafting took on Electric B to determine the championship. They defeated them in three straight games, the scores being 15-8, 15-11, 15-10. Last year they defeated Electric A for the championship. It seems that it is getting to be a habit for the Electric teams and the Machine Drafting team to meet in the finals.

The outstanding players of the Machine Drafting team were Captain Sullivan, Wood, and Ramquist.

The team consisted of:-

LEON ELLIS
JOHH PYZIK
THEODORE RAICZYK
CHARLES RAMQUIST
HAROLD SACHLEBEN
RALPH SULLIVAN (Captain)
MERRILL WOOD

INTERCLASS SWIMMING

THE interclass swimming meet was held on April 12th and 13th with fourteen classes competing. The meet was very close, with Machine C nosing out Electric B by a 16 to 15 score.

This is the first interclass championship ever won by Machine C. It made a grand slam for the three Machine Shops as each one has won a championship this year. It certainly looks like the Machinists are "tops" this year in interclass sports.

Much credit should be given to the Machine C team due to the fact that they had only three boys on their team. They were:

JOHN BRODZIK
THOMAS DEACON
ALEXANDER LUSTINIA

INTERCLASS BASEBALL

PRINT B annexed the Interclass Baseball plaque this year. They defeated Wood B, Machine B, Radio B, and Plumbing which brought them into the final game with Radio A. They slugged out a win over Radio A by the score of 16 to 4. Behind the fine pitching of "Joe" McFadden and the timely hitting of "Bill" Harrop, "Stan" Wisniewski, "Burt" Caldwell, and "Jim" Haulenbeek how could they lose? This victory also marks a double for the Print Shops as each of these has won a plaque this year.

The team was composed of:

JOSEPH BUNT	ROBERT IRONS	HENRY SPENCER
BURTON CALDWELL	OSCAR LINNEMAN	BRUNO THOMPSON
STANLEY GUTOWSKI	JOSEPH MCFADDEN	STEPHEN WASIOLEK
WILLIAM HARROP	KENNETH NELSON	STANLEY WISNIEWSKI
JAMES HAULENBEEK	HARRY RAUDENBUSH

INTERCLASS TRACK

AS A climax to this year's intra-mural sports the annual Field Day will be held June 7th. This is the big track meet of the year. The events listed are: the quarter and half mile relay, 100 and 75 yard dashes, the broad and high jumps and of course the tug-of-war.,

The whole school turns out to witness this and to root for the contestants who represent their respective classes. Nearly half the school participates in the meet while the other half watches.

The final event is the tug-of-war in which everybody, who can grab hold of the hawser, pulls until one side is pulled through a stream of water. This always concludes an afternoon which is enjoyed by all.

Let me but do my work from day to day,
In field or forest, at the desk or loom,
In roaring market-place or tranquil room;
Let me but find in my heart to say
When vagrant wishes beckon me astray,
"This is my work; my blessing, not my doom;
Of all who live, I am the one by whom
This work can best be done in the right way."

Then shall I see it not too great, nor small,
To suit my spirit and to prove my powers;
Then shall I cheerful greet the laboring hours,
And cheerful turn when the long shadows fall
At eventide, to play and love and rest,
Because I know for me my work is best.

FEATURES

THE VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

THE Camden County Vocational School is a free school for students residing in Camden County. It is maintained by county, state, and federal funds. The school is established to give training in the skilled trades and technical occupations. Our school provides equal opportunity for vocational education to students in each of the thirty-five school districts in Camden County.

It must be understood that the Vocational School has a definite place in our educational system. In the words of Albert M. Bean, County Superintendent of Schools, "It does not compete with any of the other existing county institutions, but merely supplements them and provides essential training not otherwise available". The five hundred and seventy-two previous graduates have by their splendid work proved that this school is an indispensable part of our County School System.

There are nineteen different trades offered to the students of the day school. Five of these are two year courses, the others are three years. Before any trade is taught, the opportunities for, and the needs of, such skilled workers are investigated. This gives the school flexibility, so as times change and new occupations are in demand, the school can teach them.

Students may enter the school at any time during the school year, graduating two or three years from the date they enter, depending upon the trade they are learning. For a three year course the student must spend approximately 1600 hours in actual shop work and 1050 hours for a two year course. He must devote an equal length of time to related and general subjects, such as: Mathematics, Science, Drawing, Civics, Economics, English, Safety, and Physical Education. The aim of the school is not only to educate for technical knowledge, but also to make every graduate a fine and useful citizen.

After the satisfactory completion of his course the student is eligible for graduation. This depends not only on completion of the necessary time, but a passing grade must have been made in all subjects and the student must have his instructor's recommendation. Thus only those students are graduated, who in the opinion of their instructor and principal, are qualified in skill, knowledge, attitude, and physique to carry on the work of their respective trades.

Our graduates have been so well trained that they have established a definite place for themselves in our industrial system. Since the first graduating class in 1930 the school has consistently placed a high percentage of its graduates in their trades. This proves that Camden County Vocational School is accomplishing the purpose for which it was established.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

THE Student Council consists of one representative from each class. This representative, or Chief as he is called, is elected by the members of his class and holds office for a period of ten weeks. The Council has weekly meetings when various policies and problems of the school are discussed by the members, suggestions from the Chiefs are considered and many privileges and improvements are obtained in this way.

The Student Council develops a spirit of cooperation between students, leaders, and instructors. Boys learn how to give orders. The qualities necessary both as a leader and follower are fostered by the council.

Being a member of the Student Council is very good experience to those who intend to go out and make something worthwhile out of themselves.

There is no doubt but that the Student Council has functioned very well in this school.

(Because the Chief assumes as part of his duties many of the minor routine responsibilities, the instructor is free to devote his time to better teaching.)

SAFETY COUNCIL

THE safety council meets once each week and the interest shown by the members this year exceeded all expectations. There has been better subject matter offered this year than ever before. In fact if the interest continues it will be necessary to ask for more time. The attendance for the current year has been 98.08%. The safety council is composed of a representative from each of the twenty-five different classes in the school.

The purpose of the council is to discuss the safety hazards of the different crafts in the school and in industry. Discussions of unhealthy places, unsafe places, unsafe practices, home hazards, accidents on the highway, and the safeguarding of children everywhere were matters of major interest.

These items of safety are discussed in the council chamber and relayed to the different classes by the council members.

Safety posters are circulated throughout the school and every member is considered a scout for safety.

DAVID J. RODGERS,
Safety Council Adviser

DRAFTSMEN WIN HONORS

FOR THE past fourteen years, Scholastic, the American High School Weekly, has been conducting a series of contests for the students of secondary schools in creative student work in writing, art, and music. Among the classifications in which entries from students are encouraged is that of the engineering and architectural drawing division.

Two years ago the students in the architectural drawing section submitted entries in this contest. Of the twelve prizes awarded to the 970 entries submitted throughout the United States, we received four, one of them being a first prize. As there was no classification last year in which our boys could compete, we submitted no entries. However, this year there were two classifications in the engineering and architectural drawing division which attracted our students. One was the Joseph Dixon Soap Box Derby Racing Car and the other was the Joseph Dixon Summer Shack to accommodate from four to eight persons. Albert Mezalis of Machine Drafting class designed a Derby Racing Car according to specifications outlined in the contest rules and his was the only entry submitted for this project from this school. Entries for the other project were sent in by Walter Croft, Harry DeLaReintrie, Harry Duncan, John Fearn, William Fox, Joseph Waters, Harry White, and one by Robert Chews in collaboration with George Russo.

The school was greatly elated when we learned that Albert Mezalis was awarded first prize, a check for $25.00, and that the school itself had been awarded the plaque for the school submitting the best group of drawings in the classifications we entered.

Great credit is due to these students for the general excellence of their drawings and for the painstaking care which they took in preparing them. One of the requirements of the contest was that all the drawings had to be in pencil, which made it extremely difficult to keep them free of smudge, finger marks and dirt.

The drawings and the plaque were on exhibit in the library at Open House. All who saw them commented upon the excellent work the Machine and Architectural Drafting classes were doing.

HI-Y

THE Hi-Y is a club composed of the more mature boys of school; two students from each section are permitted to join. Its purpose is to create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community a higher standard of Christian character.

The following officers were elected for this year: President, Wesley Brittin; Vice - president, William Bain; and Secretary, Leonard Shapiro.

Included as part of our years' program were discussions on the Civil war in Spain and the Sino-Japanese War and their effects on us. Through the efforts of our faculty advisor, Mr. L. D. Forbes, excellent speakers and interesting motion pictures were obtained for our meetings.

There is little doubt but that the members of the Hi-Y have acquired both spiritual and intellectual benefits.

RECESSIONAL

ALUMNI

THE standards of a school are determined by the quality of student it produces. Employers, in this age when there is a vast number of highly trained persons who are unemployed, have a large group from which to hire their employees. It is up to the student to take advantage of all the opportunites and instruction which this school offers, so that he will be in that selected group from which workers are hired.

Then, too, we must never feel that our education and training are completed. We must continually study the new methods which industry is constantly adopting and as a good citizen we should keep ourselves well-informed of local and international problems and situations. It is our duty to give of our strength and ability whenever the community needs us.

Never should we sever our relationship with this school which has helped us to grow and advance, and one of the best ways to keep in touch with school is through the Alumni Association. This is an active wide-awake organization which meets every month. There is always a good program at each meeting and you get an opportunity to meet and exchange ideas with the old grads. In order to make it possible for every graduate to join, dues have been abolished.

Remember, no dues.....interesting and educational program.....entertainment and refreshments at all our meetings. We want you to join. We greet each and everyone of you. Come out and make an even better and bigger Alumni Association. We need you and you need us.

CHARLES COLOZZI,
President

CAMDEN COUNTY

IT IS only fitting that we should record the progress of Camden County as we mark the advancement of this school, because the need of this industrial area has been the reason this school was established ten years ago.

Since the County incorporation in 1844 the population has increased more than tenfold, from 25,569 people in 1850 to 252,312 in 1930. The last thirty years have seen the population nearly triple itself. Little settlements of scattered houses soon began to take shape of enterprising communities. The City of Camden, keeping pace with the rest of the County, has increased in size until there is no doubt that it is destined to become Walt Whitman's "city invincible".

Geographically, Camden County consists of thirty-six municipalities covering an area of 222 square miles. About 33,000 acres of this land are devoted to farming and agriculture. The rest of this area is taken up by more than 300 diversified industries and their employees. Although the County ranks only seventeenth in size in the state of New Jersey, it is sixth in population, therefore it seems that homemaking is not the least of our industries.

The County is well situated, being only a short distance from Philadelphia which is the center of all the great markets east of the Mississippi. Fifty-two percent of the total population of the Nation live within three days transportation distance of this center. The excellent location and transportation facilities have done much toward the rapid industrial development of this area.

Industrialists were quick to realize that in the County was a fertile field for the establishment of their industries. This is what prompted the founding of about 309 establishments. The 1930 census showed that there was an average of 33,952 workers employed in the County who in turn received $42,517,754 in wages. The value of products they manufactured was estimated at $303,373,937. From a very humble beginning more than a century ago this small group of industries has risen to attain renown in the markets of the world.

Naturally as the County grew in size so has the City of Camden. During a short period of almost thirty years the manufacturing output has increased $211,000,000. The 237 different industries of the city have gained the rank for Camden of the fifth greatest city in New Jersey for its manufacturing output. It is truly New Jersey's most highly industrialized city and it leads the entire Nation in the proportion of its population engaged in industry. About 29,000 of its 118,700 inhabitants are engaged in some industry.

Iron products, leather, flint, glass and oilcloth were the early commodities associated with the name of Camden. These industries have been replaced by the newer commercial establishments such as: Esterbrook Steel Pen Company, Campbell Soup Company, Van Sciver Company, R. C. A. Manufacturing Company; the New York Shipbuilding Company and the Armstrong Cork Company soon followed these others into prominence. Before the dawn of the Twentieth Century, Camden was already gaining an industrial reputation. From 1930 until today its rise has been meteoric.

Situated in such a diversified industrial area, the graduate of the Vocational School has an excellent field in which to seek employment in the trade he hopes to make his life's work.

HOBBIES

MANY people interest themselves in what are known as "hobbies" and such hobbies may be almost any form of activity interesting to the person concerned.

Many great men have had hobbies in which they were just as proficient as they were in their vocations. Charles G. Dawes, Vice-President of the United States in the Coolidge Administration, and a banker by profession was an accomplished musician and composer, one of his compositions gaining nation-wide popularity.

Alex Bartha, employed in an Atlantic City Bank, for his hobby organized a small orchestra just for the enjoyment of its members. When the depression closed his bank he capitalized upon his avocation and since that time his "hobby" orchestra has sky-rocketed to fame (and fortune).

While the main purpose of the Vocational School is to give its students the trade skills and technical knowledge necessary to earn a living, there is another side of life which should not be left unforgotten, namely the enjoyment of life through interests not connected with the daily job. Not all your time is taken up by earning a living. You will have a considerable amount of free time and it is the use of this time which will largely determine whether your enjoyment of life is to be great or small.

One of the large radio chains has presented a weekly program entitled "Music is My Hobby." It is a musical feature of a high calibre and the artists have all been active business people who have chosen music as their form of relaxation from their daily toil. We are all familiar with the many prominent men who are stamp collectors.

Miniature railways are usually considered the toys of childhood, but there are numerous groups of adults everywhere who build such railways and get a great amount of enjoyment operating a full railway system in miniature.

We have a number of boys in school who are experiencing the joy of living all the more because of their hobbies. Harry White and Robert Whitfield are excellent amateur photographers. Harold Sachleben can do an oil painting for which he need make no apologies. We have all enjoyed Leon Ellis and his accordion. Fred Ribchinsky can mount animals and birds satisfactorily enough to be paid for his work.

These are but a few of the many examples of enjoying life through outside interests. While he who hath a trade indeed hath an estate, yet he who hath both a trade and a hobby hath life itself.

I HEAR AMERICA SINGING

I hear America singing, the varied carols I hear;
Those of mechanics—each one singing his, as it should be,
blithe and strong,
The carpenter singing his, as he makes ready for work, or leaves off work;
The boatman singing what belongs to him in his boat—the deckhand singing on the steamboat deck;
The shoemaker singing as he sits on his bench—the hatter
singing as he stands;
The wood-cutter's song—the ploughboy's, on his way in the morning, or at the noon intermission, or at sundown;
The delicious singing of the mother—or of the young wife at work—or of the girl sewing or washing—Each singing what belongs to her and to none else;
The day what belongs to the day—At night, the party of young fellows, robust, friendly,
Singing, with open mouths, their strong melodious songs.

—Walt Whitman

APPRECIATION

THE Vocationalist Staff wishes to express its appreciation for the assistance, inspiration and financial backing which the student body gave this publication. Without this support the 1938 Vocationalist would not have been possible.

The Staff also wishes to thank all the members of the Faculty and office force who have so generously given their time and cooperation.

It is unusual for a book of this kind to be so entirely a product of its students, and to the boys of the Print Shop the Staff gives all credit. They did all the work of actual publication — the setting of the type, the layout, the make-up, the printing and the binding. They have worked ceaselessly, untiringly, and for long hours that you might enjoy the happy memories of your days in Vocational.
